Gospel Hymn Competition

The ten Southside Virginia Lions Clubs, comprising Lions District No. 3, and the Virginia Folk Music Association, inc., are ready to handle the largest crowd, ever to assemble here in the southside, for the purpose of listening to singing of gospel songs and hymns. The event, the 1971 Gospel Festival, will take place at the Southside Electric Cooperative, Crewe, this week end, May 15-16. The program will begin each day at 1 p.m.

The Lions are sponsoring the festival, and hope to raise $10,-000 towards the construction of a recreational building at the new Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Richmond. The Virginia Folk Music Association, inc., is producing the festival. More than 200 country music artists are expected to compete for the 36 trophies to be awarded for the best renditions of strictly gospel songs and hymns.

Jody Rainwater, President of the VFMA, will be master of ceremonies. Outstanding groups to appear include The Blue Ridge Partners of Danville; Southside Virginians of Crewe; The Slaw Sisters of Brunswick High School and the Blenders from the Church of the Nazarene, Victoria. Top ranking soloists include Champion Fiddlers Cal Newman of Petersburg and Sonny Meade of Richmond. Also Corwin Matthews, Champion Guitarist from Roanoke, Miss Beverly Russell, current Queen of Country Music will reign over the two day event.

The festival will be broadcast over a statewide radio network frm 1-4 p.m. Saturday and 1 - 1:30 p.m. on Sunday. Listeners to the broadcasts will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Lions Project for the Blind.

The competition is open to all gospel groups and individual musicians. Those interested may contact Mr. Al Mull, 723 Huston St., Chase City or apply when they come to the festival. Admission to the event is $5.00 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12.

There's been some magazine stories suggesting that formic acid added to unvelted silage gives results equal to wilted silage.

* * *

We need to point out first of all that formic acid does not have clearance from Food and Drug Administration, therefore, it is NOT a recommended practice.

The cost is about $2.00 a ton and there are other unanswered questions such as; its corrosive action, the rather toxic vapor it produces in the silo during filling, seepage still occurs from the wet silage, how to meter the material into the silage, and the performance of various kinds of livestock when fed treated silage.

Last Thursday we got 10 varieties of DeKalb corn planted at Hix Bros. farm. These plots are about an acre in size.

You'll want to watch these varieties this summer. By the time the corn is knee-high we'll have them identified. Since several are brand new corns, this test will be of particular interest.

ROCKS

May 10 – Hope those who had living mothers remembered them on her special day which was Sunday. Goddess all mothers.

Alice Inge has returned home from the hospital.

Several of the ladies were doing some quilting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. R. Moore.

Toby Inge entered Va. Baptist Hospital Wednesday afternoon. A very speedy recovery is wished him.

The HD Club had its May meeting with Mrs. Barbara Ratliff Thursday night.

A very large crowd attended the shower given Mrs. Nannie Baldwin Friday night. She received many useful gifts.

Mrs. Nannie Baldwin and Wesley Seay were united in marriage Saturday morning at the Catholic church in Farmville.

Mrs. W. R. Moore was the oldest mother present at Sunday School Sunday. Mrs. Carolyn Dickerson was the youngest. They received potted geranium plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Almond and Mrs. Jennie Almond were called to Farmville Sunday due to the death of Mrs. Ethel Birdsong Davis.

Sympathy is extended to the family.

Mrs. Toby Inge spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. Clara Garrette of Evergreen.

Sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Tolbert of Pamplin, whose son, Tom was hit by a car and killed Sunday night.
